

Jack Day, Virgil Hall see 20-year service dates

Twenty years' service with Tektronix were celebrated by Jack Day, Patents and Licensing, on June 5 in the Technical Center cafeteria. Accompanied by his wife, Marge, and son Peter, Jack greeted the dozens of co-workers who came to wish him well.

The cake prepared for the party was decorated with a "patent" formally signed and sealed by the Patent Commissioner—and all done in icing.

Virgil Hall, Metal Tooling, was presented his diamond 20-year pin and received the congratulations of Vice President Bill Webber in an awards ceremony in the Assembly cafeteria, June 9th.

Bill commented that it was the continuing efforts of men like Virgil doing unpublicized jobs well over the years that have greatly contributed to Tektronix' success.

Virgil was presented a gift from his co-workers. Following the awards ceremony Virgil and his wife accepted congratulations from their friends and enjoyed cake and coffee.

Young master Peter Day, age 4, helped his father Jack Day (right), Patents and Licensing, celebrate twenty years with Tektronix at a party June 5. President Howard Vollum prepares to present Jack with the diamond-studded tie tack for the event.

Virgil Hall celebrated his 20th anniversary at Tek Monday with his wife and co-workers in the Metals cafeteria. Vice President Bill Webber made the award.
