

A group of approximately 25 men in business attire are standing on a stage. Behind them is a large screen displaying the text "MASTER INVENTOR Tektronix". The screen also features a stylized graphic of two blue arches above the text. The men are dressed in suits and business casual wear, and some are holding small awards or certificates. The stage is lit with warm, golden light, and the background behind the screen has a patterned, abstract design in shades of green and blue.
